

Stochastic blow up

John King

School of Mathematical Sciences, University of Nottingham

`John.King@nottingham.ac.uk`

The behaviour of some simple stochastic models whose deterministic limits exhibit blow-up effects will be described. The models are motivated by applications to gene-regulatory networks. (Joint work with Robert Jenkins, CRUK.)