

Technology Junior Consultant – Technology Consulting Team

Who we are and what we are doing

PwC Slovakia is looking for a Junior Consultants to join our Advisory, Technology Consulting practice. Serving various clients in Slovakia as well as supporting our global network across Europe, Technology Junior Consultant would become a part of a team on our Advisory projects combining global experience with local skills and industry knowledge to deliver premium IT solutions for the world's leading companies.

Our teams provide wide range of technology-based services:

- > designing strategies and adapting global trends to local business reality,
- > providing Enterprise Architecture services to assess, design, transform or build future-proof architectures to support our clients' success
- > streamlining, simplifying, and transforming operating models,
- > identifying best-fitting technologies, combining traditional providers with new kids-on-the-block (e.g. FinTech, Disruptors),
- > implementation / system integration of various IT systems,
- > provision of project management / content-heavy PMO services, and assuring quality of delivery on large system integrations and implementations.

We combine a strong industrial background with in-depth technology expertise, bringing global trends and best practices, tailored to local specifics, and delivered in local languages. Our people leverage the best of business and IT worlds and help our clients to avoid the usual compromise from the trade-off between technological sophistication and the ability to speak the “business language”.

Our team is based in Bratislava, in Slovakia and operates mostly in Slovak market.

Our local Advisory practice is among the fastest growing in our network and we are looking for new talents to join us.

You will

- > work with prestigious global clients on both local and international level,
- > help our clients implement innovations into practice,
- > design leading-edge enterprise architectures and IT solutions,
- > support our clients in managing technology projects to achieve tangible business results,
- > enjoy real variety of consulting projects both in Slovakia and abroad,
- > leverage an unmatched network of people, knowledge, tools and technology and work alongside some of the best thinkers in the industry.

We require

- > IT/fundamental science/engineering university degree or a final year student. Economics/management graduates with strong interest in technology are also welcomed
- > Strong analytical mindset and sharp logical thinking
- > Ability to pick up new concepts and technologies rapidly
